While Waiting to be Matched...

At ALONE, we aim to match all Visitation Support & Befriending Volunteers within 30 days, ensuring you can start connecting with an older person as soon as possible.

Matching times can vary depending on the level of need in different areas, but our team is continuously working to move the process forward efficiently.

While your match is being arranged, there are many other meaningful ways to get involved and support older people through ALONE's volunteering, fundraising, and campaign opportunities.

Roles such as the Telephone Support & Befriending Volunteer or the National Support & Referral Line Volunteer offer rewarding opportunities to engage directly with older people, through friendly conversations, regular check-ins, and by helping link them with the supports they need.

These roles are flexible, fulfilling, and a great way to make a real impact while you wait to be matched.

You can read more about these roles, explore all available opportunities, attend an information session, and apply directly here.

If you'd like to get even more involved, you can also: Support ALONE's fundraising efforts, discover upcoming events or create your own at our Fundraising page here.

Help spread the word by sharing and engaging with our social media campaigns to raise awareness about the challenges facing older people and how others can help.

Finally, don't forget to keep building your skills through the additional training modules available in the Training Hub section of your volunteer brief, a great way to stay prepared and connected while awaiting your match.

Thank you for your patience, enthusiasm, and continued commitment to supporting older people with ALONE.
